Lure of Fruitvale and Its Charms for the Home Builder

ITS MANY RESIDENCES AND BEAUTIFUL GARDENS

A Park-Like Section That is Without Superior in Presenting the Advantages That Conduce to Model Homes

Edited by the Publicity Committee of the Fruitvale Eagles' Street Fair and Carnival.

Realizing the importance of this section appreciate what is prospective set in fruitvale. It is well to the owners of this section to realize that the city dues are being paid into the city funds.

A PLACE OF RESIDENCE

This portion of Oakland has many features that make it extremely desirable as a place of residence. In the first place its means of communication with the rest of the city is well as the entire territory are unsurpassed. The San Joaquin Company operates several lines of trolley cars giving service to numerous car service to all parts of the city and adjacent suburban towns. The new Western Pacific railroad passes through the own railroads to maintain both a freight and passenger service for local and transcontinental business. The well known Southern Pacific Railroad operates through the section and passengers can be sent by this road in case of emergency to their doors. In addition, the town maintains a frequent local line to San Francisco. The com-

Fruitvale afford convenient and reliable means of transacting their affairs. The stability of these banks is well attested to when it is mentioned that during the financial panic of two years ago but little of these institutions paid all demands upon them in gold and currency, and at no period were their rates called upon to exceed one dollar's worth of scrip.

NEW HOMES ERECTED

As a place of residence Fruitvale boasts of many advantages in relation to the foregoing. Climate conditions are far superior to most places and on about the last. The atmosphere and the walls are in proportion throughout the year are much less than other sections. Real estate holdings are not placed at excessive figures and it is always possible for the man to moderate his income to secure for himself and family a comfortable home with all of the latest modern improvements by the payment of a small amount down and the balance the same as rent. This has been made possible by the carpenter's hammer and hum of his saw can be heard in every direction. New houses are going up here like the proverbial mushroom only on a more substantial basis. Fruitvale is certainly the ideal home site in Oakland.

SANITARY CONDITIONS

In this connection it is not amiss to speak briefly of the sanitary conditions throughout this city. Long before annexation was the lot of the people of Fruitvale to be the dirt of the people of Oakland. The dirt was divided off a sewage system authorized and a flat reached and permanent sewer system installed. It is estimated that this system covers an area of over twenty-five acres and is ample to provide for the needs of the population.

Facts and Figures on Fruitvale

In act of annexation carried at a special election held last November, a great territorial domain was included within the municipal boundaries of Oakland and six preparing committee were overwhelmed, importunities gave the individual identities to form an integral part of the greater city that was thereby created.

Fruitvale with its population of between 25,000 and 30,000 is essentially a residential section. It is a park-like place of missions and cottages and extensive gardens and there is no more beautiful location for the founding of a home than this community of trees and flowers and rolling hills.

During the past year this section has made much progress. The building of new residences has been active. Every month throughout the year has witnessed the starting of sixteen or twenty houses. At a moderate estimate these private improvements represent an outlay of from $100,000 to $300,000. Much money has also been spent in the construction of several culverts, bridges, roadsides and other public improvements.

The value of realty is advancing in Fruitvale along with the general average as the San Leandro road and along the line of the See Le Mardi road. In the

Fruitvale Growing Rapidly in Wealth and Population

Fruitvale's Beautiful Residential Districts

The Ideal Conditions That Exist for the Home Seeker and Builder Which Find No Superior in the State of California

Transportation and Lighting Facilities at Morningside Park.

Type of Homes Surrounding Morningside Park.

In a beautiful section like the Fruitvale section of Oakland we look for the best there is in the way of residence property and are not disappointed. With its delightful climate, deep rich soil, luxuriant growth of trees, plants and flowers, wonderful transportation facilities, splendid schools, numerous social organizations, excellent library, sanitary and lighting systems, modern fire fighting equipments, up-to-date stores and shopping places that indicate an active progressive people. It is natural to expect the very latest development in the way of facilities provided for the home-builder.

Were we to search the entire country from Seattle to San Diego and from Oakdale to New York, it would be difficult to find conditions more ideal than those to live in in Fruitvale. We consider, for example, a tract of land surrounded with beautiful houses and in which only a few minutes' walk to a electric station, where, for about twenty-two years, four of the twenty-four, trains stop by leaving and arriving from San Francisco every few minutes with the direct type of trailer cars leaving every three minutes for Broadway, the nation's greatest district.

When in addition to these advantages, you find all the improvements in the very latest type, permanent shade trees, handsome evergreens, cement sidewalks six and eight feet in width, cement curbs, cement gutters, asphalt pavements being constructed, sewer and electric poles set in private reserves in the rear of lots, with the gas and water pipes laid in the park area of the sidewalks so that there shall be no pipes in the street and consequently pavements are never torn up, and there are no poles on the sidewalks; we are the boundary and numbers of the lots stamped in the cement walls, furnish permanent monuments and reasonable building restrictions guaranteed the character of all future improvements, conditions are certainly ideal. All these things are found in Morn-side Park, a beautiful tract situated on the eastern or moraine side of Fruitvale at East Sixteenth street, a boulevard shown by surveys made by the City Engineer and County Surveyor to be the geographical center of Oakland, Alameda and Piedmont. This property lies in the direct line of growth, and at the point of greatest activity of this entire area, and investments made here will pay handsomely. The selling agents for this property are the Perkins-Smith Company, 1 Telegraph Avenue, Oakland; telephone Oakland 2550. The views on this page will give an idea of the property and surroundings.

Next to the enjoyment afforded by life in Fruitvale is that of being able to procure nice, fresh, juicy meat, such as Crosby & Leschinsky make a specialty of at the Boulevard Home Market, at 3130 Boulevard, opposite King Avenue. This firm has a large proportion of Boston, only the very best butchers' stock, together with the finest cured meats of all kinds. Cleanliness, courteous treatment and prompt attention are the watchwords which have popularized this well-established market, and the lowest living prices have always prevailed since the opening of the place.

The Boulevard Home Meat Market has steadily increased in patronage through the efforts of its proprietors and their dependents, who are continually abreast of the times by the frequent study of every modern convenience for the handling of their trade. Prompt delivery of orders has played an important part

Office of H. A. Pleitner, Real Estate and Insurance, 1100 Fruitvale Avenue.

Depicted above is a Fruitvale landmark and a good likeness of the office premises of H. A. Pleitner, the well-known and old established real estate agent of Fruitvale. For the period of over eighteen years H. A. Pleitner has continually occupied the same corner, 1100 Fruitvale avenue, and has made a financial success of his business. His industry and fair dealing have made a very enviable reputation for himself and have gained the confidence of scores of money men and active speculators so essential to his line of business.

From a small beginning H. A. Pleitner has rapidly advanced in his business until he has become a very successful agent for others and a great broker and builder of his own real estate, latter.

as well as a much sought for money. Since his venture in speculation for himself he has disposed of five different large tracts and has built over 200 beautiful homes and is still at it, selling constantly to the building up of Fruitvale. Through his business tact and worthy manner many families have made independent and happy and a great number of small investors are now large property owners and well-to-do people.

Therefore, if you desire to sell your property for sale or wish to buy a home in Fruitvale from a reliable agent, H. A. Pleitner is the man to call upon. He lends money on flat or installment loans, sells beautiful homes on $200 cash down, ranging from $10 to $25 per month; has always a good supply of new houses on hand and ready conveyance to show them.

L. E. PHILLIPS, leading Oakland attorney, whose home is in Fruitvale.

L. Ernest Phillips, the well-known Oakland lawyer, whose office is in the Bacon block and whose residence is on the heights of Fruitvale, has had an interesting career. Born in the heart of New York State and reared in Virginia, he came to California in 1902, having been a man and has identified himself with its progress during nearly twenty years. Mr. Phillips has been an ardent advocate of California for climate and business reasons and especially of the two cities by the Golden Gate. A condensed statement of Mr. Phillips' record would include his service as United States Commissioner, United States Special Attorney, captain of inspectors in the customs service, where he won the wide testimonial of the collecting and assessing of the port of San Francisco for faithful service; his selection to deliver the Fourth of July oration in San Francisco some years ago; his anti-grant candidacy for Congress; his trip around the world and visits to Europe; the valuable service to Berkeley in the excellent compiling and indexing of the charter for the academic city; the reputation he has won as an honest and upright attorney which has contributed to support the character he has established. Mr. Phillips is president of the Central Improvement Club of East Fruitvale and he is also a Roosevelt Republican. He practices a specialty of estate and damage cases and has won a number of important and successes in the courts of California. —Extract."

The phone orders reduce prompt delivery, and when you want a nice steak, roast, boiling piece, ham, mutton, sausages, bacon or smoked meats, you will always find it at this reliable market.

Messrs. Crosby & Leschinsky also pay the highest market price for butchers' stock, and they are thoroughly alive to the needs of the trade, being among the most progressive and enterprising business men in this section of Greater Oakland. They are members of the Fruitvale Improvement Club, which has taken an active part in furthering and encouraging every progressive move that tends toward the advancement of Fruitvale and her environments.

Bolesworth Building, showing the store of F. W. Fish, Mantles, Tiles and Grates.

Mr. Bolesworth has been a resident of Fruitvale for over six years. Like many others, he first visited the section, but after his real estate interests, he has always been a believer in Fruitvale, and never misses the opportunity to "boost" for his home section.

F. W. FISH, Tiles and Mantles. While Fruitvale boasts of its unprecedented growth in the number of homes erected during the past few years, the interior finish of many of the buildings have proven revelation to most visitors, who seldom expected to see such a high class of finish in comparatively inexpensive homes. But when an inspection is made of this location, and it is soon long before he decided to sell his butcher business and, despite the low cost at which he supplies these building necessities.

Mr. Fish carries an unusually large assortment of every conceivable design in tile, floor, wall, roof and other household necessaries, and owing to his reasonable pricing expenses, he is enabled to quote the very lowest possible prices on all work in his line. His establishment is located in the Bolesworth building, on East Fourteenth street and 52d avenue, where he will be pleased to submit samples and show the various designs of the mantles work which he carries in stock.

Mesa Grande Wine Vaults, 1102 Fruitvale Av. D. Michels, Prop.

Seldom has it been our good fortune to chronicle the steady advancement of a more disrevered business man than that of D. Michels, the founder of the Mesa Grande Wine Company on Fruitvale avenue, opposite the Southern Pacific railroad station. The advent of this gentleman in commercial circles some years ago marked the possibilities which were then afforded by Fruitvale to the shrewd investor, and which promise to be equally as good years roll on. Mr. Michels had been a traveling man,

They brought with them from the East a valuable business experience and while Michels only boasted at that time two or three stores, they began business in a basement, the only available place at that time. Their business steadily increased and to such proportions that they erected one of the largest buildings used for a grocery store in this part of the country. So tall, occupying the upper part of the building, is also under the control of the firm, being rented to fraternal organizations every year in the week. ORGANIZED EFFORT IS BEING MADE TO PREVENT JEFFRIES-JOHNSON FIGHT

DONAHUE IS IN DEAD FIGHTER PASTOR URGES DOUBT IF HE IS BURIED AS RIVAL GOES TO COURT HIS FLOCK TO OPPOSE BIG PRIZEFIGHT

District Attorney Says if It Is Illegal There Will Be No Contest.

LAW WAS FRAMED IN BARE KNUCKLE DAYS

He Is Looking Up Law to Make Sure of His Position.

Explaining this meeting to the editor of the church paper and others that a Jeffries-Johnson championship bout in the Oakland electric on the Fourth of July be prevented in view of the death of young McCarthy after his bout with Moran, District Attorney Donahue has issued the following statement of his attitude on the subject:

If the law says that such a contest as it is proposed to hold at the Oakland racetrack, New York, Jeffries and Johnson are illegal, the contest will be held. You can put that in.

The question that confronts me at the moment is, if the law goes over the law, then I say, let them go on with it. It is a legitimate prize fight, but there is just as much to it as a prize fight will be defined under it.

MEANING OF OLD LAW

At the time the law was passed, bare-knuckle contests and boxes were used in sparring exhibitions. The bare-knuckle contests were prohibited by law, which in permitting sparring exhibitions provides that the contestants shall be examined by physician immediately before the fight to see if they are in proper physical condition, the implication being that if they are not the sparring exhibition must not be held.

Under the sense of sparring exhibitions now, contests of the kind it is proposed to hold in America on the Fourth of July have been conducted nearly all over the state, but I do not think it prohibits them, the critics do not contest with me that the law does not prohibit bare-knuckle contests from being held on the Fourth of July.

INTENDS TO FIND OUT

I am giving them a chance to tell me what they know about the law, and whether they have any objection to the sparring exhibitions.

In addition to the usual brands, Mr. Wolff's establishment has the present Street Fair and theatricals come along, as he was one of the first to suggest holding such an affair in Fruitvale. Though he was obliged to let it go, he is loyally to the affair, never wincing, and since its return home he has lent infinite assistance toward its success.

Mr. Wolff has built up a large and growing trade in his line throughout the annexed territory of greater Oakland, some of his business extending beyond the city limits. He is the largest importer of wines and liquors in the state, and carries only the highest grade of imported and domestic wines and liquors, catering especially to the family trade.

Owen Paul Wine Co.

Among the most progressive young business men of Fruitvale, Owen Paul, the founder of the Owen Paul Wine Co., holds a unique position, as he has built up a large trade among some of the leading families in that vicinity. The establishment is located on East Fourteenth and High streets, opposite the daily paper, Fruitvale Fair, and during the three years of its existence the volume of business has steadily increased.

Although the company is doing a wholesale and retail trade, its specialty is that of furnishing the best brands of wines and liquors to families, all orders receiving prompt attention. The Owen Paul Wine Co. carries all the standard brands in their line, and the assortment includes choice imported wines, brandies, whiskies and liquors, as well as native and foreign fruits and seeds. In connection with the store there is a well-appointed barroom which is stocked with all kinds of wines and liquors.

The Villa, 1200 Fruitvale Ave., John L. Bold, Prop.

A visit to Fruitvale is not complete without a visit to John Bold at The Villa on Fruitvale avenue, opposite the Southern Pacific station. Joyful, popular, open-hearted and always wearing a contented smile, John Bold has endeared himself into the hearts of everyone who has ever crossed his threshold, and many a kind word is spoken of Fruitvale after a visitor has met and philosophized with this pioneer exponent of the many advantages offered by having a home in this vicinity.

Mr. Bold is an enterprising citizen, possessed with the spirit of expansion, and his straightforward business principles are worthy of emulation. Well may it be said that his word is as good as his bond, for John Bold has never been known to go back on a promise, or after when a friend is in need. He is of a whole-some type, and a man who counts his friends by legion.

Brown, the Grocer, East Fourteenth and 37th Ave.

D. M. Heagerty.

One of the most popular shopping places for auto parts and hardware generally is located at the intersection of East Fourteenth and High streets, the natural junction and terminus point of the Fruitvale Fair. The new, up-to-date, well-constructed grocery features in this place, however, will be mentioned. The general room for ladies, where linens and apparel are served, connects with the well-known restaurant, where no other and the most varied entertainment is given. The service is excellent, and it's a certainty that a customer leaving the fair will stop here for a meal.

Hodge & Collins Lumber Co.

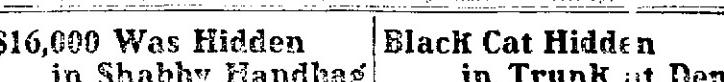

Although not strictly speaking a Fruitvale firm, the well-known concern of Hodge & Collins Lumber Company, are strongly identified with the prosperity of this section. Many of the dwellings and commercial buildings are constructed from lumber secured at these yards, and contractors and builders are always sure of a supply. The personnel of the firm consists of John R. Hodge and Edward S. Collins, both gentlemen are well known in business and financial circles. The main yards of the company are located at 329 West Twelfth street, with a branch yard at 1200 West Fourteenth street, and patrons can have their wants fully and promptly supplied at either place, and at the lowest market price.

Exposition Delegation Leaves for Nation's Capital

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS, PARTY SEEKS FEDERAL AID

Spirit of Western Metropolis to Be Graphically Brought Before Nation; Judge Henshaw Declares Fair Already Won

Amid the cheers of a large crowd of spectators and the inspiring strains of a brass band, the California committee chosen to proceed to Washington, D. C., to obtain Federal recognition of the claims of San Francisco to the Panama-Pacific Exposition of 1915 and for which it has pledged a sum of $5,000,000, nearly all of which has been subscribed, started on its important journey yesterday morning, boarding an "exposition special" train at the Oakland mole.

The Delegation.

The party occupying the special when it left the mole consisted of the following: Associate Justice of the California Supreme Court Fred W. Henshaw; James Ralph Jr., William F. Garland, president of the Real Estate Board of Los Angeles; Mayor P. H. McCarthy; William E. Dargie and Victor H. Metcalf of Oakland; M. F. Tarpey of Fresno; William L. Gerstle, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce; T. C. Friedlander, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange of San Francisco; F. J. Zeehandalaar, secretary of the Los Angeles Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, and Charles S. Aiken, in charge of the publicity department of the exposition committee. Governor Gillett and Private Secretary Cooper and William Gerstle and Luther J. Evans, president of the Manufacturers' and Shippers' Association of Napa joined the party at Sacramento.

The special, composed of five cars, a baggage, a diner, two sleepers and a combination buffet and observation car, left for the east as the second section of the San Francisco Overland Limited, by the way of Omaha, and will arrive in Washington on Thursday.

The journey across the continent and back will afford an opportunity of graphically bringing before the people of many States the declaration that the exposition is to be held in San Francisco. The Exposition Company is financing the trip and is convinced that the expenditure is a wise one and will be repaid abundantly. After its mission at Washington the party will go to Philadelphia, New York and possibly Boston, and the homeward route will be via Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver and Los Angeles.

Justice Henshaw's Opinion.

As the train was about to start on its journey Justice Henshaw rendered the following sweeping decision from the rear of the observation car: "San Francisco is going to get Federal recognition for the exposition. Congress would take this action even if this delegation were not to go to Washington."

Former Secretary of the Navy Victor H. Metcalf was enthusiastic in speaking of the work at Washington which is before the delegation, and of the nation-wide recognition that will be secured by the journey across the continent. He said that one of the first things which would be discussed by the members of the party on the special, after they had been joined by Governor Gillett at Sacramento, would be the priority of designating one of the number as the official spokesman who should give out the interviews at the cities on the way.

"Too many interviews might lead to confusion," Metcalf said. "My idea is that the Governor of the State should be the one to do the talking. The Governor, however, has already expressed his opinion on one point, in which I agree with him, so that I may not be assuming too much in saying now that the object of our work in Washington will not be so much to secure a Federal appropriation at this session of Congress, as to secure some action recognizing the claims of San Francisco and the Pacific Coast."

"I believe that we shall be able to get a resolution through Congress at this session authorizing the President to invite the foreign nations to participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915. That, I think, is Governor Gillett's plan. I know that President Taft is very favorably disposed toward San Francisco, although I have had no personal expression from him on the subject of the exposition here. I also know that Roosevelt is a warm friend of this city. I intend to see him when he returns, and am sure that we can count on his assistance. He will be in San Francisco next year.

Heritage of Pacific Coast.

"The exposition belongs to the Pacific. The Pacific ocean covers one-third of the earth's surface, and one-half of the population of the world live on its shores. The opening of the Panama canal will be the first step in making the Pacific the theater of the great commercial activity of the world in the coming century."

"The Atlantic Coast line," he continued, "is but 435 miles long, with 710 miles on the gulf; while the Pacific Coast line of the United States, including Alaska, is 7625 miles, with 10,5 miles of coast fronting on the Pacific in our insular possessions.

"These are some of the facts that make the Pacific Coast the logical place for the celebration of the opening of the canal. Seattle and Portland have had their fairs and this belongs to San Francisco. Our attitude should be, and it is, that San Francisco is to hold the exposition here, whatever happens. That much is decided."

"There are also two remarkably strong arguments that will appeal to Congress in regard to San Francisco's claim. One is the very large subscription to the stock of this exposition that has been made in San Francisco. The other is the strong appeal to sentiment in the memory of the great calamity that overtook San Francisco—the loss of life and tremendous loss of property—and the wonderful way in which the city has been rebuilt in practically four years. We want the people of the world to come to San Francisco and see what has been done."

Duty of the Legislature.

"The exposition," Metcalf added, "is now being taken up as a California work, and it is right that it should be so. The State Legislature should declare that San Francisco is the city selected for holding the fair. If it were necessary to convene a special session at Sacramento, he would certainly be in favor of doing so, although possibly it will be soon enough for that at the regular session in January. Congress should have the action of the California Legislature before it takes up the matter of a Federal appropriation at the next session."

"While it is not in line with the arguments to be urged on Congress," he added, "the people of the State should realize that the holding of the exposition in San Francisco means that hundreds of thousands of people will come here and will visit every part of the State in 1915. It is not so much the money they will spend as the good impression they will take away with them."

Charles S. Fee, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific, expressed the greatest confidence in the success of the mission to Washington.

"Congress is going to act, and do it without hesitation," he declared. "San Francisco is going to have this exposition and it is going to be a topnotcher. There is no longer any question in my mind of what the result is to be. The subscription that has been raised here, and the character of the men who are going to Washington with Governor Gillett settles it."

California United.

James Ralph Jr., representing the Merchants Exchange, and William Gerstle, representing the Chamber of Commerce, both of whom have been in the front rank of the exposition workers from the beginning, were jubilant at the prospect of final success in the first stage of the great undertaking.

"We are going to Washington as a united California delegation headed by Governor Gillett," Ralph said. "We believe that Congress will act with the same dispatch that San Francisco has when more than $4,000,000 was raised in two hours."

"We expect that President Taft will send a message to Congress advising the passage of a resolution at this session designating San Francisco as the place where the Panama-Pacific Exposition will be held, and authorizing the invitation to foreign nations to participate."

William F. Garland and F. J. Zeehandalaar, the representatives of Los Angeles, shared in the general good feeling and expressed the same eagerness for the success of the California delegation as was voiced by the representatives of San Francisco.

"The State is a unit for the exposition at San Francisco," declared Zeehandalaar, and Garland said:

"Everybody in Los Angeles is boosting for the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915."

HATPINS CAUSE OF FIGHT AND UPROAR IN A NICKEL SHOW

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Percy Van Dyke, a visitor from New York, entered a motion picture theater yesterday, pushed his way along a row of seats occupied mostly by women, sat down and instantly leaped into the air, yelling. He had sat down on a phalanx of long, sharp hilt pine. His body shot into the darkness and he lay in the lap of death, prostrate. This sudden, violent assault immediately caused upon Van Dyke and there were signs of panic in the twilight of the house when the police were called. Van Dyke was found to be seriously injured, and he was taken to the receiving hospital where the surgeons said he would recover.

ADmits EVIDENCE AGAINST HEINZE NOT CONVINCING

Federal Prosecutor Astonishes Defense by Conceding to Argument.

ADmits More FACTS ARE TO BE SET FORTH

Judge Rules in Favor of the Accused Magnate's Contentions.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Forts to have the over-examination charged against F. Augustus Heinze thrown out of court were made today by his counsel before Judge Hough in the United States Circuit Court, who is presiding over the trial of Heinze on charges of misapplication of the funds of the Merchantile National Bank while he was president and of securities issued by the bank in order to support the checks he had been in progress for a week.

Heinze's counsel contend that the defense had not shown in what way the argument for release, in the statute of limitations, is violated. The defense did not prove that Heinze violated the law and the court set aside the criminal intents laid in the show cause.

Assistant United States District Attorney Franklyn C. Dole delayed the prosecution until the trial was adjourned and said he would agree with the defense that the evidence thus far presented did not constitute a crime. This decision, however, did not surprise the defense, which had been granted an adjournment on the over-examination counts before it had been heard.

Judge Hough ruled that no evidence could be given of Heinze's argument to the court. The defense had argued that Heinze was actually innocent of the charge and that no proof could be given of his intent to commit a crime subsequent to May 1, 1907.

The prosecution, which began on Friday, gave evidence to prove that Heinze had behaved like a criminal during his stay in the Orient, and that he had endeavored to connect Heinze's illegal acts with an effort to promote a pool in United Copper stocks.

SLAYER CLAIMS TO SELF DEFENSE

George Besser Arraigned for Murder of Queen of Potrero.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—"I shot her in self defense," said George Besser this morning in Judge Dean's court, as he sat in the dock facing a charge of murder for the killing of Mrs. Anna Marie Muller, 42, wife of John H. Wren, only son of John H. Wren, 60, who died last night in a San Francisco home. The killing took place at the time of the bride's parents on Potrero Avenue, where she was known to queen of the Orient.

Besser, who had been seen with his wife and another seriously injured in a fight to win her favor, Besser declares that another man was mixed up in the murder, and that he himself had been threatened with death. After the shooting he went on a tour of the Orient, working on a ship, he is said to have been arrested and was arrested yesterday by the police.

His appearance in court today was for the purpose of arraignment.

Cannon in New York And No One Knew It

NEW YORK, May 2.—Sir Joseph Carron slipped quietly to New York yesterday from Boston and after a stay of only three hours slipped quietly out without precipitating an alarm or assaulting an innocent. His presence, in fact, was absolutely unknown, save to the room clerk at one of the hotels. This particular clerk used to carry "Uncle Joe's" luggage out in the middle of the night and the room clerk for him probably the city would not know today that "Uncle Joe" had been here.

The clerk thought he saw something familiar in the lines of the tall, angular figure that stood back toward him, but when the figure turned up he saw the stump of a cigar between the lips he was positive.

"Nobody else at that time of life would be smoking a cigar before breakfast," he explained.

HYDE TO TELL HIS TALE TO THE JURORS THIS WEEK

Prosecution Sees End to Its Case Against Accused Kansas City Physician.

FIGHT CENTERS IN FINDING OF POISON

Attorney Walsh Begins Attack in Expert Medical Testimony and Dr. Hektoen.

KANSAS CITY, May 2.—By next Wednesday night Prosecutor Conklin believes the case of the prosecution against Dr. D. C. Hyde will be completed. If the present plans are not changed, only three more witnesses will testify for the state, after Dr. Ludwig Holton completes his testimony. These witnesses are Dr. W. H. Haines, Dr. Victor C. Vaughan and Mrs. Logan O. Swope.

The defense's cross-examination of Dr. Hektoen, it was thought at the opening of the court day, would be completed in a few hours. Mrs. Swope, who is financing in the main the evidence for the prosecution of Dr. Hyde will be the last state's witness. Interest now centers in his appearance on the stand as it is believed his story will be full of human interest. When Mrs. Swope gave her deposition in the civil suit brought by the accused, she refused to confine herself to answering the questions asked her.

FIGHT OVER CYANIDE

The fight between Dr. Hyde's attorneys and Mrs. Haines and Vaughan will center on the alleged finding of cyanide of potassium in viscera of Colored and Christian Swope. The defense has filed a motion to withdraw his report made to the chemists in order to support the defense's contention that cyanide had been used by Dr. Hyde. That cyanide had been used by Attorney James A. Roal delayed the opening statement for the prosecution.

Judge Lutkin today upheld the state's objection to the defense's inquiry of Dr. Hektoen to the defense's inquiry of Dr. Ludwig Holton if representations of Dr. Hyde did not call the attention of March 3, and demand parts of the viscera of Colored Swope and Christian Swope.

ATTACKS EXPERTS.

Searcy had the case opened when Attorney Walsh began an attack on expert medical testimony, with Dr. Hektoen in the witness-chair. Reading from text book said to have been written by Dr. Hektoen and Walter S. Haines, Mr. Walsh said the defense's witness had not read the text book and the defense's experts on both sides in a talk to the court in order to impress the court and the jury. Dr. Hektoen said he had never read the portion of the text.

The question of the viscera was again brought up by Mr. Walsh. He said he would be able to show that the chemists who called upon Dr. Hektoen were authorized by Dr. Hyde to act. The State agreed it would not object to the witness being called and did not require the defense to appear if it was done. Dr. Hektoen then admitted he had on March 1 refused the viscera to the accused physician's representatives.

DENIES OFFER OF FUNDS.

Asked if a letter was not sent to Dr. Hektoen by the prosecuting attorney saying more funds would be forthcoming, if necessary, Dr. Hektoen struck the arm of his chair with his fist and said:

"Mr. Walsh demanded again the communications which passed between the State and the scientists. The court ruled against him. The defense had the mists Saturday, but returned them.

Mr. Walsh began a series of technical questions regarding the examination of the brains. Mr. Atwood did not like the course the lawyer was taking and told Mr. Walsh to exchange opinions.

"It is no longer," said the court, striking the bench, "who is not trying the case on packing house rules."

Chicago Millionaire Takes Angelino Bride

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Two prominent Chicago and Los Angeles families were joined together in a simple but pretty wedding ceremony Saturday afternoon, when Miss Louise C. Albin, 18, of this city, became the bride of Robert Brent Wren, only son of John H. Wren, 60, who died last night in a San Francisco home. The killing took place at the time of the bride's parents on Potrero Avenue, where she was known to queen of the Orient.

The couple started on an extensive honeymoon trip to the South. The bride and groom were married in the Angelino Society, the bridgeman came to Southern California several years ago to make his home, and now has extensive interests here.

FISHING TRIP ENDS IN DROWNING OF 2

Man and Women Meet Tragic Death in Waves Off Fort Point.

SAN FRANCISCO. March 2.—Twenty-two-year-old Mrs. Louise Schaad lost her life in the bay off Fort Point yesterday noon when a rescuing lifeboat was but a few feet away after her husband had made an heroic effort to draw her with him to safety on the overturned sloop in which they had set out for a fishing excursion. John Gabb, Schaad's cousin was drowned in the accident also.

The young husband was rescued by Captain John S. Clark and a crew from the Golden Gate Life Saving Station.

Gabb, who was a widower, 43 years ago, was going on the fishing trip with Schaad only, and Mrs. Schaad, with her baby, intended to go on a picnic with a few friends to White Cat canyon. She missed the trolley ferry, however, and her husband, losing how dangerous she was at losing her day of pleasure, decided to take her with him on the bay.

The trio embarked from Harbor View, where they rented a small sailboat, about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. After fishing around the bay they turned and started back before noon. At almost precisely 12 o'clock they were rounding Fort Point, about 500 yards from shore.

At this time the tide had just started and when the boat unshipped its rudder it was left at the mercy of currents and winds. Sails were set, so the boat was swinging around and tipped over before the canvas could be lowered.

The three were thrown into the water, but they came up together and clung to the bottom of the overturned boat. The woman dropped from a seated position at the time, the boat turned completely over, shaking off the three men and hemmed in excursionists. Schaad, who is a strong swimmer at an experienced sailor, seized his wife by her jacket as they went down, however, and dragged her back with him to the boat, succeeding finally in pulling her up on the bottom of the craft. Gabb clung to the side of the boat.

The boat turned over again, dragged down on one side by the weight of the three clinging desperately to it, and so offering a hold to the tide. Again the three came up and secured a precarious hold and again young Schaad, after a heart breaking struggle, pulled his wife up beside him on the boat bottom. But for the third time the craft turned over and this time only Schaad came up.

His numb hand on his wife had given way, and Gabb exhausted and cold, could no longer cling to the almost submerged craft, over which heavy seas were breaking constantly. Neither body has been recovered.

Surveyors to Mark Alaskan Frontier

Seattle, May 2.—Forty-two men, representing the United States survey party that is marking the Alaska frontier, will leave Seattle today. Thomas Rieger commands the party, all the men of which are athletes 200 miles more than six feet tall. The tallest is 6 ft. 10 in., and the shortest, the most famous is Johnson Dow, a tall star football player at Princeton and afterwards a captain in a Illinois regimental army.

The survey will be completed and work to the northward will be begun this summer. The party will go to White Horse, up to the Yukon River, thence where no steamboat Cascade, which has been altered for their use, will be waiting.

The Canadian party will begin work at the same time as the American party and a joint party will decide upon where the line shall be. One party will go up the Yukon river in the first steamboat that was ever in the stream.

The survey will be in the north until October. Next year they will remain through the winter.

Do you get what "you ask for?"

"Something just as good" is what you don't want and should not get. "Something just as good" has no place on Bowman's shelves. We have no ax to grind. To give the public what the public wants is Bowman's policy—at prices that are right—ALWAYS REASONABLE—always satisfactory to the purchaser. That's what we care most about—your satisfaction. If you ask for X's Sarsaparilla or Y's Cod Liver Oil, you are not told here that Y's Sarsaparilla or X's Cod Liver Oil is just as good.
